 —A fight occurred at the Depot between Smith, a conductor and Columbus, his brakeman on the Branch in which Columbus was worsted. No arrests.
 —Logan just now is over-run by tramps who beg their meals of the citizens. There is a law in Ohio forbidding the feeding of such, and we suggest that these fellows be arrested and set to pounding stone.
 —We were pleased to receive a pleasant call from Bro. Pursell of the Gazette, and Charleston, W. Va., Tribune on Tuesday. Managing the brain work of two papers does not appear to lose Bro. P. any flesh.
 —Do not forget that Gus. Menzies, in the Centennial Block, is prepared to supply the citizens with Fresh Pork, Beef, Sausage, Puttling, and everything usually furnished by first class Meat Shops. Every thing of the best, and at the lowest prices. Butchering for families done at short notice and cheap.

 —The following dates have been fixed for holding Common Pleas Court in Hocking, Perry and Fairfield counties during 1887, viz:
 Hocking Feb 14, May 9 and Nov. 14.
 Perry, March 7, May 30, and Oct. 17.
 Fairfield, Jan. 24, Apr. 18 and Oct. 24.
 —T. S. Floyd, who was appointed to the position of watchman in the P. O. Department at Washington D. C. has declined to accept and on recommendation of Congressman Outhwaite, Mr. Samuel Stradley has been appointed to the position. Sam is an ex-soldier and a Democrat from wayback, and will make a faithful officer.
 —Mr. Daniel Notestone, Sr., of Perry township, father of our county Treasurer, made the DEMOCRAT a pleasant call on Tuesday last. The old gentleman has been a resident of Perry township, for more than half a century, during which time he has never failed to vote the Democratic ticket. This perhaps accounts for the fact that he is hale and hearty, and good for several years of life.
 —Monte Cristo, at the Opera House last night was well rendered to a fair audience. Mr. Lawrence in his many difficult parts fully sustained the high character in which he is spoken of by the press, while the other parts were excellently played. The play is well written and judging from the frequent bursts of applause highly delighted the audience. Mrs. Hoyt presided at the piano in a superb manner and was frequently cheered.
 —Joseph Hafler the gentlemanly, popular and thorough engineer on the Straitsville Branch has presented this office with two pods of cotton raised this season in his garden in this place from seed brought from the South by Mrs. H. when visiting in the sunny clime of Texas, last year. The pods in question appear to be fully matured and are a curiosity in their way. They may be seen at our office, where they will be kept for the inspection of the curious.
 —The following citizens are in attendance at court this week in the capacity of Grand Jurors. They are all intelligent gentlemen, and the public are to be congratulated on having the matter of crimes and offenses in such careful hands. Charles Gabeline, Falls township; Gore; John Wolf, J. P. Green Tp.; Wm. F. Hood, Laurel Tp.; John Reetenwaldt, Logan; John Anderson, Perry Tp.; D. L. Davis, J. P., Sattercock Tp.; B. H. Stevenson, J. P., Sattercock; Charles Speffer, Sattercock; J. S. Bay, Starr; Charles Bodenot, Ward Tp.; Isom Finley, Ward; John Dawley, Ward; W. J. Ryan, Ward; J. W. Knipe, Washington Tp. Jas. Smith, Ward.

 —Scarlet Fever.
 We publish on the inside of this issue some directions as to the proper manner of nursing a case of this dreadful disease, so fatal in its effects. Our people will do well to read the article carefully and give it the attention it merits.
 —Question.
 Does a person when going from his own county for temporary purposes and remaining over thirty days in another county become entitled to vote at the place where he is remaining during an election according to law? SUBSCRIBER.
 Ans.—He does not.
 —A New Fence Post.
 Mr. R. B. Motherwell has applied for letters patent for a new iron fence post, which has many points of superiority over any post we have yet seen, not least among which is its cheapness. Mr. Motherwell claims it will cost but little in advance of a good locust post and can be used in constructing any variety of barbed wire or wire woven picket fence.
 —The Bazaar.
 Be sure and visit the Opera House Bazaar for your Holiday Goods. These Goods are now being opened up and arranged for the Holiday Trade, and it is time for you to begin to think about what kind of presents to bestow on your friends. You will see here a Grand Exposition of nice and lovely goods from which to make your selections. You can see here the largest display in the city, or in the Hocking Valley. The goods are all new and of the latest and most tasteful designs. We can not tell you about all the nice and fancy articles on Exhibition at the Bazaar, but will say it will be to your advantage to call and see them, and you will be most agreeably surprised. You will most certainly find something that will suit you, and at a remarkably low price.

 ED. DEMOCRAT.—Sometime ago some statements and misrepresentations were made as to my official conduct in the disposition of a case before me. I consider the statements hurtful to me, where the facts are not correctly known, and I desire to make, through the columns of the DEMOCRAT, a statement of the matter in order to dissipate some erroneous impressions about the case that have become current. It is the case of the State of Ohio vs. Tigner and Swackhammer charged with a felony, of which case so much, and probably too much, has already been said in your paper. It has been intimated that the affidavit filed by Mrs. Swackhammer vs. Tigner did not have the county and State mentioned in it. This is not the fact, the county and State were both mentioned. Neither did I ask J. B. Rison how to dispose of the case. I heard his suggestions in the case on behalf of his client just as I would in any other case, and used my own judgment in disposing of it. I dismissed the charge of felony for the reason that I did not consider it sustained by the evidence. Then Rison informed me that Tigner wanted to plead guilty to an affray, as he thought the evidence established guilt of that offense, and he wished to save the costs of a re-arrest, so I permitted him to plead guilty to an affray, and Swackhammer came and pleaded guilty to the same charge. His mother came and begged leniency for her son as she would have it to pay. The circumstances of each seemed so near equal in my mind—both of them poor—one's mother a poor pensioner, and the other's father a crippled soldier, and his mother an invalid—that I don't deny but that I used clemency in finding them upon the lowest grade of offenses, and letting them off as I did. I designed no partiality to either of the parties, but in the spur of the moment I did not consider who had made the complaints, the injured parties or persons who had seen the affray, and in this respect may have erred. But if I did, I was trying to be fair and impartial.
